

Collaboration Email to Brand

Subject: Want to Collaborate?

Dear Mr. / Mrs. [Name of the Recipient],

I am [Your Name], a Blogger and a You Tuber. I run a successful blog of more than [number of blog subscribers] and a YouTube channel of more than [number of YouTube channel subscribers].

I work in the Email Marketing niche. On my blog and channel, I teach people about email marketing and review different software, tools, and products related to the niche. Some time ago, I came across your brand and your latest email marketing software [name of the Product/Software]. I must say that it's one handy tool that every beginner marketer must learn and use.

So if you are interested, why not we should collaborate? I will make a complete tutorial on the product. It will be a step-by-step video guide and a detailed blog post on my blog. I am sure my audience will love it and will buy the product's monthly or annual subscriptions on my recommendation. You will surely see a rise in your sales. Here are the links to my blog and YouTube channel:
